The Grand Soleil 42 Long Cruise is a product of collaboration between naval architect Marco Lostuzzi, Nauta Design for the interiors and exteriors, and the technical department of Cantiere del Pardo.

This yacht redefines long-distance sailing with its exceptional comfort, spacious onboard areas, and remarkable autonomy in navigation. These are the defining features that set this vessel apart from the rest.

Thanks to its increased hull volume, the GS 42 Long Cruise offers exceptional stability. The well-proportioned sail plan maximizes high-performance sailing standards, ensuring an unforgettable sailing experience.

DECK & INTERIOR LAYOUT

Below deck, everything is designed for maximum comfort worthy of a long cruise boat. Large windows give the interior a light and airy feel. Attention to detail and a well thought-out layout create the perfect atmosphere for a long cruise.

The Long Cruise range has a Blue Water soul. The line is designed for those who look for functionality, autonomy in navigation and simplicity of maneuvering on board. This enables to manage the boat even with a small crew, without sacrificing comfort and larger volumes for long cruises.
